

LEO

23 June - 21 August

Every spring, Leos come roaring out of their lairs, searching for that sweet and special spot guaranteed to deliver a bird's-eye view of your universe. You could find it in a philosophy book, on a mountain-top, through a wise one, on safari, at university or a lecture, even at a rave. It's a heady, annual kick in the head to clear out any cobwebs and expand your understanding. Where you take your trip is up to you. The catch is, it's got to be new.

VIRGO

23 August - 22 September

Yoo-hoo, Virgos. Wakey-wakey. This is no time for sleeping or curling into a ball like a lovesick armadillo. Nobly born under the most practical, analytical, acid-tongued earth sign, you have more common sense in your little finger than most attain in a lifetime. Like a chess master, you excel at strategic planning. Multiple futures lie before us. Of course you're worried. Everybody's worried. There is no Planet B. Slow your roll, sisters.

LIBRA

23 September - 22 October

You must remember this: a kiss is but a kiss - unless Venus is retrograde (6 March-17 April), in which case, better stall. Think it over, honey. By 18 April you'll find your good taste and sanity restored, having gracefully declined caddish come-ons for out-of-marriage experiences, and had sensible second thoughts about personal and business 'opportunities'. The real offers will start in mid-April - slowly at first, and faster in May.

SCORPIO

23 October - 21 November

Be careful what you wish for, girls and boys. You may get it in abundance when you are lusting for something else. Home, garden, property, farms, crops (not riding crops, OK?), families and ancestors will be sources of potential gain in the next six months. New romances (on every Scorpio's lookout list) must wait; they may not blossom until summer. Sigh and count your blessings... and your 566 heads of purple sprouting broccoli.

SAGITTARIUS

22 November - 21 December

When the blazing Sun hits your Fun and Games angle, trailing his uppity minions Mercury and Venus, the world becomes your circus. Sagittarian fun tends to be riskier, funnier, crazier and bigger than anyone's. Racing? Rocket launches. Parties? Fancy-dress and social mountaineering on a Brobdingnagian scale. Travel? You dare not read the amazing For All the Tea in China by Sarah Rose. It'll get you going - in disguise, yet.

CAPRICORN

22 December - 20 January

O brave new world, it is a great responsibility to be a Capricorn these days, knowing that one is waiting in the wings to be tapped for some as yet undefined, monumental undertaking, feeling the hand of history on one's shoulders. And yet, and yet... in the spring of 2009 a celestial sign appeared in the heavens. It said: 'Clear up your shocking house. See to your parents' needs, not your own. Consult your elders. Await further instructions.'

AQUARIUS

21 January - 18 February

Kremlinologists will never be out of work. The world will always need them to guess what Aquarians will do next. You seem to be waiting for something kind, congenial, and good-looking. Guess what? It's going to happen. This spring you've got a lovely bunch of planetoids. There they are, all standing in a row. Big ones, small ones, some that take you to bed. Give 'em a whirl, you lucky girl, that's what the stars have said. Oil!

PISCES

19 February - 20 March

Ready, fire, aim! Oops. Mars in Pisces (15 March-22 April) may see you seething, but if you can CONTROL YOURSELF and not act like a DROOLING MANIAC, good timing can make you wickedly glad. Believe it or not, there are people out there who seem to be jealous of you now. Poor, deluded fools! If they only knew what you put up with! Plot, scheme, punch pillows and, after 18 April, you will foil them once again.
